

UP TO DATE
AND NEWSY.EVENING WORLD'S
HEAD-PIN TORNEY
OPENS ON MONDAYPin Knights from All Sections Await
Big Bowling Event Abie Attell
Doing the Side-Stepping—
So Long Bat.

THE annual Evening World Headpin Torney opens at Thum's Monday night. This will be an occasion of great joy among the bowlers, from Flatbush to Weehawken. The largest entry list on record has been received at the alleys and more Evening World prizes will go to the bowlers who score over 100 than in any previous year. At the same time Jimmy Smith, Alec Dunbar and some of the big "pros" are contemplating a Western trip. "Things is some hustlin'," as they say in Kansas.

PECULIAR idea—that of Abie Attell. Abie is to fight Frankie Neil, who was knocked out by Owen Moran a short time ago.

Why doesn't Abie fight Moran again—now that he's thinking of fighting?

Is he afraid of Moran? Why does Abie refuse to fight unless Moran will make 100 pounds again when Attell's old habit is to take on anything from a Battling Nelson down to a little kid? Abie has always been a very "wise" fighter and mathematician. Perhaps he's doing a wise thing in side-stepping the sturdy Englishman. Or is Abie just teasing the public along to make a cleanup when he does fight Moran again—as he did with Baker in Los Angeles? Quicker faster?

Battling Nelson is to hook up with Bill Nolan again. Well, good-bye, Bat. Sorry to see you go.

THERE is a great volume of sound over the accidental death of a sailor in the United States Navy after a boxing bout.

It was unfortunate, of course. Accidents are always unfortunate. But it doesn't show that boxing should be all discredited in the navy. A few boxers have been killed in the ring. But it is always on account of lack of condition. No man should be permitted to enter a contest unless he

SUPERVISORS WILL REGULATE BOXING

BY JOHN POLLOCK.

IN the future all boxing bouts brought off in San Francisco will be handled by the Board of Supervisors who will take special care to see that all of the contests are fought on the level, and besides no club will receive a permit to run a show which has a reputation of a building for a clubhouse. Chairman Stafford, of the police committee, says that there will be no more cracked fights out there and he has announced that under no circumstances will a license be granted to the old fight trust, which was composed of Jimmy Condon, Eddie Graney, Morris Levy and Willis Britt. If either of these four men are connected with any of the clubs that receive a permit to hold a show the club license will be revoked.

Sullivan and Barry Next?
Jack "Twin" Sullivan's victory over Joe Thomas last night up to a match for him with Jim Barry, the Chicago heavy-weight, who tested Sam Langford in that city a few weeks ago. Matchmaker McGraw is anxious to bring Barry and Sullivan together at the same time, but the bout will be clinched in a few days. They will fight ten rounds before the Pacific A. C. next month.

Otto Calls Off Doot.
"Young Otto," the light-weight fighter, of this city, is not going to meet "Young Nibbles," the quaker city light-weight, in the main bout at the Pacific A. C. on Friday night. Otto has been engaged by Joe Thomas to his sparring partner for a few weeks on the road, and was expected to call off his conds with Nibbles.

Weigh to Fight Neary.
Fredie Neary, the Pacific light-weight, who recently made a great impression in Milwaukee by beating Milwaukee Sayers, of that city, in a ten-round battle, has been matched to meet Charles Neary, the crack light-weight, of Milwaukee, for ten rounds at the show of the Pacific A. C. of Milwaukee, which is called to be brought off on Jan. 31. Neary has a good chance of winning the victory from Neary, as he is too clever for him.

Murphy and Conlon Again.
"Kid" Murphy, the rugged little Italian bantam-weight, and Johnny Conlon, of Chicago, have been signed up for another fight. They have been engaged by Matchmaker Barson, of the Pacific A. C. to try conclusions in a ten-round bout on Jan. 23. Conlon recently secured a decision over Murphy and as the latter asked for a return match Conlon's father consented. The winner will be matched to box Willie Schumacher for the 100-pound title.

Mennis and Peter Sullivan to Meet.
George Mennis has given up all hope of getting on a fight with Battling Nelson for ten rounds and has signed articles of agreement for a twenty-round fight with Peter Sullivan, of Fall River, Mass., which will be fought at a boxing show to be held at the show of the Pacific A. C. Sullivan has made quite an impression with the fight fans of the West as a result of his great fighting and they expect him to beat Mennis.

Gilmore Passes Up Erne.
Jack McGuigan, manager of "Young

BEST SPORTING PAGE IN NEW YORK.

EDITED BY ROBERT EDGREN.

TIMELY TIPS TO THE EVENING WORLD TOURNAMENT BOWLERS

PAPKE KNOCKS OUT STANTON;
JACK "TWIN" WHIPS THOMASIllinois Thunderbolt Puts Over Finishing Punch in the Fourth Round.WILLIAMS BEATEN
BY STEVE JUDGESullivan Had Better of Gruelling Ten-Round Fight with Californian.

(Special to The Evening World.)
BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Bill Papke, the Springfield (Ill.) middle-weight, added another decisive win to his record by knocking out Walter Stanton, of California, in four rounds at the Armory A. C. last night.

Papke worked as fast as if the route was to be a much shorter one. He was the aggressor in a bout every round. It was at close quarters that he did his most effective work.

In the opening and Stanton made his best showing and after that it was apparent that Papke would win. As soon as the timekeeper started them off on their journey Stanton let fly a right that caught Papke on the face. Bill did not back away, but got closer and started working on Stanton's stomach with his hands.

Papke came from his corner in the fourth round with a rush and the way he got working made the members feel that he was out to win up the affair as quickly as possible. After Stanton landed a right on the head Papke started a fusillade of blows on Stanton's body and face, after being parted from a clinch Papke again landed a right that sent Stanton to the floor. He was on his feet at the count of ten and began to exchange blows with Papke. While at close quarters Papke sent a short right uppercut to the wind, forcing it along with the left hand, and the referee went to the floor, and when the referee reached the count of six Stanton's seconds threw up the sponge.

SHARKEY STAG TO-NIGHT.

Another good card of bouts has been arranged by Jim Bowdley to be fought at his clubhouse at Sixty-fifth street and Columbus avenue to-night. In the star bout the champions will be "Kid" Williams, of Philadelphia, and Jimmy Potts, of Minneapolis, who recently arrived here. Potts has a good list of opponents. Five other bouts will also be decided.

(Special to The Evening World.)
PAVILION, LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 22.—Jack "Twin" Sullivan administered a terrible beating to Joe Thomas, of San Francisco, during a ten-round contest at Naud Junction Pavilion last night. On a decision Jack would have had first money. Time and again he had the "Prisco" boy going, but was unable to wind it up. Thomas hurt his left hand in the second, when a terrific left was blocked by the Twin's elbow. Sullivan resorted to bringing his elbow up when referee Charlie Eytan was on the wrong side.

The official twice warned Jack to desist. In the third round Joe slipped to the mat, and when he arose Sullivan went in to wind it up, and although he landed on Joe's jaw with rights and lefts, and although the blood spattered from nose and mouth, he fought his way out in a brief respite, during a clinch recovered enough to keep Sullivan looking in the seventh. Thomas showed a wonderful recovery and sent the Twin to the ropes with straight rights to the face. Jack came out of the clinch with a rush and landed a right that sent Thomas to the floor. Joe's first round. The San Francisco boy came again in the eighth and forced the pace at once and won the fight.

In cutting Jack's left eye open and leaving him shakled down and tired. The fifth round was evenly divided. The sixth round was mostly the ball. Both men, though Thomas fought gamely and won the plaudits of the crowd, both men showed the effects of the grueling battle.

M'GRAW GETTING IN SHAPE TO PLAY SECOND

"Send on Some Bats and Balls," He Writes From Los Angeles.

By ROZEMAN BULGER.

HAT Manager McGraw is determined to play second base for the Giants next season and get back in the game after a retirement of six years is shown by a letter just received in which he asks that a dozen baseballs and a few bats be forwarded to Los Angeles that he may continue his work and get in shape by the time the records arrive at Marlin Springs, Tex., on Feb. 20.

To get back into condition McGraw says it will be necessary for him to take off fifteen or twenty pounds, and this is no easy job to a man who has been out of active service so long. McGraw was out of active service so long. McGraw was out of active service so long. McGraw was out of active service so long.

Another interesting paragraph in McGraw's letter is a reference to his conversation with Roger Bresnahan at Toledo. He says Bresnahan, while a little disappointed at not becoming a manager, is ready to go in and play the game of his life. Bresnahan has always liked New York and has always liked McGraw, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Bresnahan realizes that McGraw is the man who made him a great player. He has often told me of how he went to Baltimore as a pitcher when that club first entered the American League. Roger was a great pitcher and an accurate thrower, and McGraw immediately saw the advantage of having him in the game every day. He thereupon decided to turn Pitcher Bresnahan into a catcher. All players like to be pitchers, and Bresnahan kicked a little at being made a catcher, but in a few weeks he saw the wisdom of McGraw's decision. He immediately decided to become the best catcher in the world, and when the Giants won the championship he was so heralded all over the world.

Talk of Enmity is Groundless.
At one time McGraw tried to make a third baseman out of Bresnahan, but many patrons who went to the park for no other purpose than to see McGraw. There is no question that he was a great drawing card.

He Will Add Life to the Game.

Just now McGraw is working two hours every morning and two in the afternoon to get in shape. He writes that the climate out there is superb. Several players from other clubs are training with him.

Another interesting paragraph in McGraw's letter is a reference to his conversation with Roger Bresnahan at Toledo. He says Bresnahan, while a little disappointed at not becoming a manager, is ready to go in and play the game of his life. Bresnahan has always liked New York and has always liked McGraw, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Bresnahan realizes that McGraw is the man who made him a great player. He has often told me of how he went to Baltimore as a pitcher when that club first entered the American League. Roger was a great pitcher and an accurate thrower, and McGraw immediately saw the advantage of having him in the game every day. He thereupon decided to turn Pitcher Bresnahan into a catcher. All players like to be pitchers, and Bresnahan kicked a little at being made a catcher, but in a few weeks he saw the wisdom of McGraw's decision. He immediately decided to become the best catcher in the world, and when the Giants won the championship he was so heralded all over the world.

Talk of Enmity is Groundless.

At one time McGraw tried to make a third baseman out of Bresnahan, but many patrons who went to the park for no other purpose than to see McGraw. There is no question that he was a great drawing card.

He Will Add Life to the Game.

Just now McGraw is working two hours every morning and two in the afternoon to get in shape. He writes that the climate out there is superb. Several players from other clubs are training with him.

Another interesting paragraph in McGraw's letter is a reference to his conversation with Roger Bresnahan at Toledo. He says Bresnahan, while a little disappointed at not becoming a manager, is ready to go in and play the game of his life. Bresnahan has always liked New York and has always liked McGraw, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Bresnahan realizes that McGraw is the man who made him a great player. He has often told me of how he went to Baltimore as a pitcher when that club first entered the American League. Roger was a great pitcher and an accurate thrower, and McGraw immediately saw the advantage of having him in the game every day. He thereupon decided to turn Pitcher Bresnahan into a catcher. All players like to be pitchers, and Bresnahan kicked a little at being made a catcher, but in a few weeks he saw the wisdom of McGraw's decision. He immediately decided to become the best catcher in the world, and when the Giants won the championship he was so heralded all over the world.

Talk of Enmity is Groundless.

At one time McGraw tried to make a third baseman out of Bresnahan, but many patrons who went to the park for no other purpose than to see McGraw. There is no question that he was a great drawing card.

He Will Add Life to the Game.

Just now McGraw is working two hours every morning and two in the afternoon to get in shape. He writes that the climate out there is superb. Several players from other clubs are training with him.

Another interesting paragraph in McGraw's letter is a reference to his conversation with Roger Bresnahan at Toledo. He says Bresnahan, while a little disappointed at not becoming a manager, is ready to go in and play the game of his life. Bresnahan has always liked New York and has always liked McGraw, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Bresnahan realizes that McGraw is the man who made him a great player. He has often told me of how he went to Baltimore as a pitcher when that club first entered the American League. Roger was a great pitcher and an accurate thrower, and McGraw immediately saw the advantage of having him in the game every day. He thereupon decided to turn Pitcher Bresnahan into a catcher. All players like to be pitchers, and Bresnahan kicked a little at being made a catcher, but in a few weeks he saw the wisdom of McGraw's decision. He immediately decided to become the best catcher in the world, and when the Giants won the championship he was so heralded all over the world.

Talk of Enmity is Groundless.

At one time McGraw tried to make a third baseman out of Bresnahan, but many patrons who went to the park for no other purpose than to see McGraw. There is no question that he was a great drawing card.

He Will Add Life to the Game.

Just now McGraw is working two hours every morning and two in the afternoon to get in shape. He writes that the climate out there is superb. Several players from other clubs are training with him.

Another interesting paragraph in McGraw's letter is a reference to his conversation with Roger Bresnahan at Toledo. He says Bresnahan, while a little disappointed at not becoming a manager, is ready to go in and play the game of his life. Bresnahan has always liked New York and has always liked McGraw, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Bresnahan realizes that McGraw is the man who made him a great player. He has often told me of how he went to Baltimore as a pitcher when that club first entered the American League. Roger was a great pitcher and an accurate thrower, and McGraw immediately saw the advantage of having him in the game every day. He thereupon decided to turn Pitcher Bresnahan into a catcher. All players like to be pitchers, and Bresnahan kicked a little at being made a catcher, but in a few weeks he saw the wisdom of McGraw's decision. He immediately decided to become the best catcher in the world, and when the Giants won the championship he was so heralded all over the world.

Talk of Enmity is Groundless.

At one time McGraw tried to make a third baseman out of Bresnahan, but many patrons who went to the park for no other purpose than to see McGraw. There is no question that he was a great drawing card.

He Will Add Life to the Game.

Just now McGraw is working two hours every morning and two in the afternoon to get in shape. He writes that the climate out there is superb. Several players from other clubs are training with him.

Another interesting paragraph in McGraw's letter is a reference to his conversation with Roger Bresnahan at Toledo. He says Bresnahan, while a little disappointed at not becoming a manager, is ready to go in and play the game of his life. Bresnahan has always liked New York and has always liked McGraw, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Bresnahan realizes that McGraw is the man who made him a great player. He has often told me of how he went to Baltimore as a pitcher when that club first entered the American League. Roger was a great pitcher and an accurate thrower, and McGraw immediately saw the advantage of having him in the game every day. He thereupon decided to turn Pitcher Bresnahan into a catcher. All players like to be pitchers, and Bresnahan kicked a little at being made a catcher, but in a few weeks he saw the wisdom of McGraw's decision. He immediately decided to become the best catcher in the world, and when the Giants won the championship he was so heralded all over the world.

Talk of Enmity is Groundless.

At one time McGraw tried to make a third baseman out of Bresnahan, but many patrons who went to the park for no other purpose than to see McGraw. There is no question that he was a great drawing card.

He Will Add Life to the Game.

Just now McGraw is working two hours every morning and two in the afternoon to get in shape. He writes that the climate out there is superb. Several players from other clubs are training with him.

Another interesting paragraph in McGraw's letter is a reference to his conversation with Roger Bresnahan at Toledo. He says Bresnahan, while a little disappointed at not becoming a manager, is ready to go in and play the game of his life. Bresnahan has always liked New York and has always liked McGraw, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Bresnahan realizes that McGraw is the man who made him a great player. He has often told me of how he went to Baltimore as a pitcher when that club first entered the American League. Roger was a great pitcher and an accurate thrower, and McGraw immediately saw the advantage of having him in the game every day. He thereupon decided to turn Pitcher Bresnahan into a catcher. All players like to be pitchers, and Bresnahan kicked a little at being made a catcher, but in a few weeks he saw the wisdom of McGraw's decision. He immediately decided to become the best catcher in the world, and when the Giants won the championship he was so heralded all over the world.

Talk of Enmity is Groundless.

At one time McGraw tried to make a third baseman out of Bresnahan, but many patrons who went to the park for no other purpose than to see McGraw. There is no question that he was a great drawing card.

He Will Add Life to the Game.

Just now McGraw is working two hours every morning and two in the afternoon to get in shape. He writes that the climate out there is superb. Several players from other clubs are training with him.

Another interesting paragraph in McGraw's letter is a reference to his conversation with Roger Bresnahan at Toledo. He says Bresnahan, while a little disappointed at not becoming a manager, is ready to go in and play the game of his life. Bresnahan has always liked New York and has always liked McGraw, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Bresnahan realizes that McGraw is the man who made him a great player. He has often told me of how he went to Baltimore as a pitcher when that club first entered the American League. Roger was a great pitcher and an accurate thrower, and McGraw immediately saw the advantage of having him in the game every day. He thereupon decided to turn Pitcher Bresnahan into a catcher. All players like to be pitchers, and Bresnahan kicked a little at being made a catcher, but in a few weeks he saw the wisdom of McGraw's decision. He immediately decided to become the best catcher in the world, and when the Giants won the championship he was so heralded all over the world.

Talk of Enmity is Groundless.

AMUSEMENTS.

EMPIRE (Broadway &amp; 42nd St., 12c to $2.00.)

Maude Adams in The Jesters.

Hudson 44th St., near Broadway, Tues. 8.30.

ETHEL BARRYMORE in The Jesters.

CRITERION (Broadway &amp; 42nd St., 12c to $2.00.)

The Jesters.

GARRICK (45th St. &amp; Broadway, 12c to $2.00.)

Maxine Elliott in The Jesters.

KATHERINE in The Jesters.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.

THE TALK OF NEW YORK.